Get Out the Vote in the 2014 American Garden Award Program

Sorry, this voting won't impact your tax rate, or improve your healthcare, or cause a family rift. But it will cause a moment of joy when you look at four stunning flower varieties and choose your favorite! American Garden invites you to vote now in the 2014 contest. Thirty-two prestigious public gardens are participating in the nation's only flower popularity contest—the southern gardens have the flowers planted and are ready to show them off. The northern gardens will do so as Mother Nature allows. But anyone can go online to vote now then visit the gardens later in the season to see the flowers in person then vote again in the garden. The American Garden Award is a unique opportunity for the horticulture industry as well as the general public to view and vote on a specific flower that they think has the most appealing garden characteristics.

Vote now by going to www.americangardenaward.com and clicking on the appropriate button to vote for your favorite flower.

The entries are:

Celosia Arrabona Red (PanAmerican)

Cuphea SIRRACHA™ Violet F1 (Syngenta)

Foxglove Digiplexis™ Illumination® Flame (Cultivaris)

Petunia Sanguna® Radiant Blue (Syngenta)

Voting is open May 1 - September 30 and winners are announced in October.

Follow American Garden Award on Twitter and Facebook to keep up with the voting results!

The American Garden Award program is administered by the All-America Selections® Display Garden program. AGA entries have not been trialed nor awarded AAS Winner status by the AAS® Trial Judges.
